

Born and bred on the colourful shores of St. John's, Newfoundland, Pete wears many hats – musician, writer, and producer. With a Bachelor's degree in Music Production from the prestigious Berklee College of Music, he's now fully immersed in the arts world at his own Clyde Avenue Studios.

Teaming up with the talented Spencer Fitzgerald, Pete's creative journey has been a rollercoaster of accomplishments. Notably, the two co-authored the widely acclaimed touring production, "Trummp The Musical," which earned a stellar 4 out of 5-star rating. They've also ventured into the world of literature, with their debut poetry collection, "Addictions Anonymous," securing the coveted number 1 spot on Amazon's best-seller list.

Pete's solo musical projects and contributions with the band "With Violet" have earned multiple nominations from MusicNL and the ECMA. These achievements have also provided him with opportunities to perform on stages like Iceberg Alley, The NAC, and The Rickenbacker Music Inn.

Pete is overjoyed to be sharing the stage with the world-class musicians of the NSO and can't wait to indulge in a night of Oscar-winning music. (Instead of just singing alone in his car...) So, sit back, relax, and enjoy the show!
