

Three-time MusicNL award winner and two-time ECMA nominee, Roddickton, Newfoundland and Labrador native Karla Pilgrim has spent the last 15 years winning over audiences from coast to coast. From performing for troops in The Middle East, May of 2007, to opening multiple sold out shows for country music superstar Tim McGraw in August 2015 at the Mile One Stadium in St. Johns, NL, Pilgrim's experience as a performer knows no boundaries.

In June of 2009, after years of playing shows, writing and traveling, Pilgrim released her award-winning solo album 'I'll Think of You'. Riding the success of her first record Pilgrim was selected to open for Alan Jackson when he rolled through town in August of 2010. She enlisted friends to join her for what would be three unforgettable nights. Following the success of these shows, Pilgrim and friends formed country vocal trio The Secrets. After 10 years of touring, The Secrets disbanded in 2020 but not without releasing an award-winning country record; 'Break Even' and two Christmas albums.

In 2022, after Pilgrim's new country trio, LadyLike, started to slow down she made the decision to put together her first ever band. 'Karla Pilgrim and The Mayflowers' are high energy and include some of Newfoundland and Labrador's most accomplished musicians, bringing a world class country show to their audience.

In 2024, she'll release her first solo project since 2009 and an Eva Cassidy Tribute in St. John's, NL, in May, followed by a yet another busy festival season. As a mom of three beautiful babies, Karla has enough inspiration to last a lifetime.
