A man with short blonde hair, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and light-colored tie, stands on a rocky cliff. He is holding a large brass instrument, likely a tuba or euphonium, vertically. The background is a scenic view of a bay or harbor at sunset or sunrise, with the sun low on the horizon, casting a golden glow over the water and sky. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds. In the distance, a small boat is visible on the water. The overall mood is serene and majestic.

Dear Music Lovers,

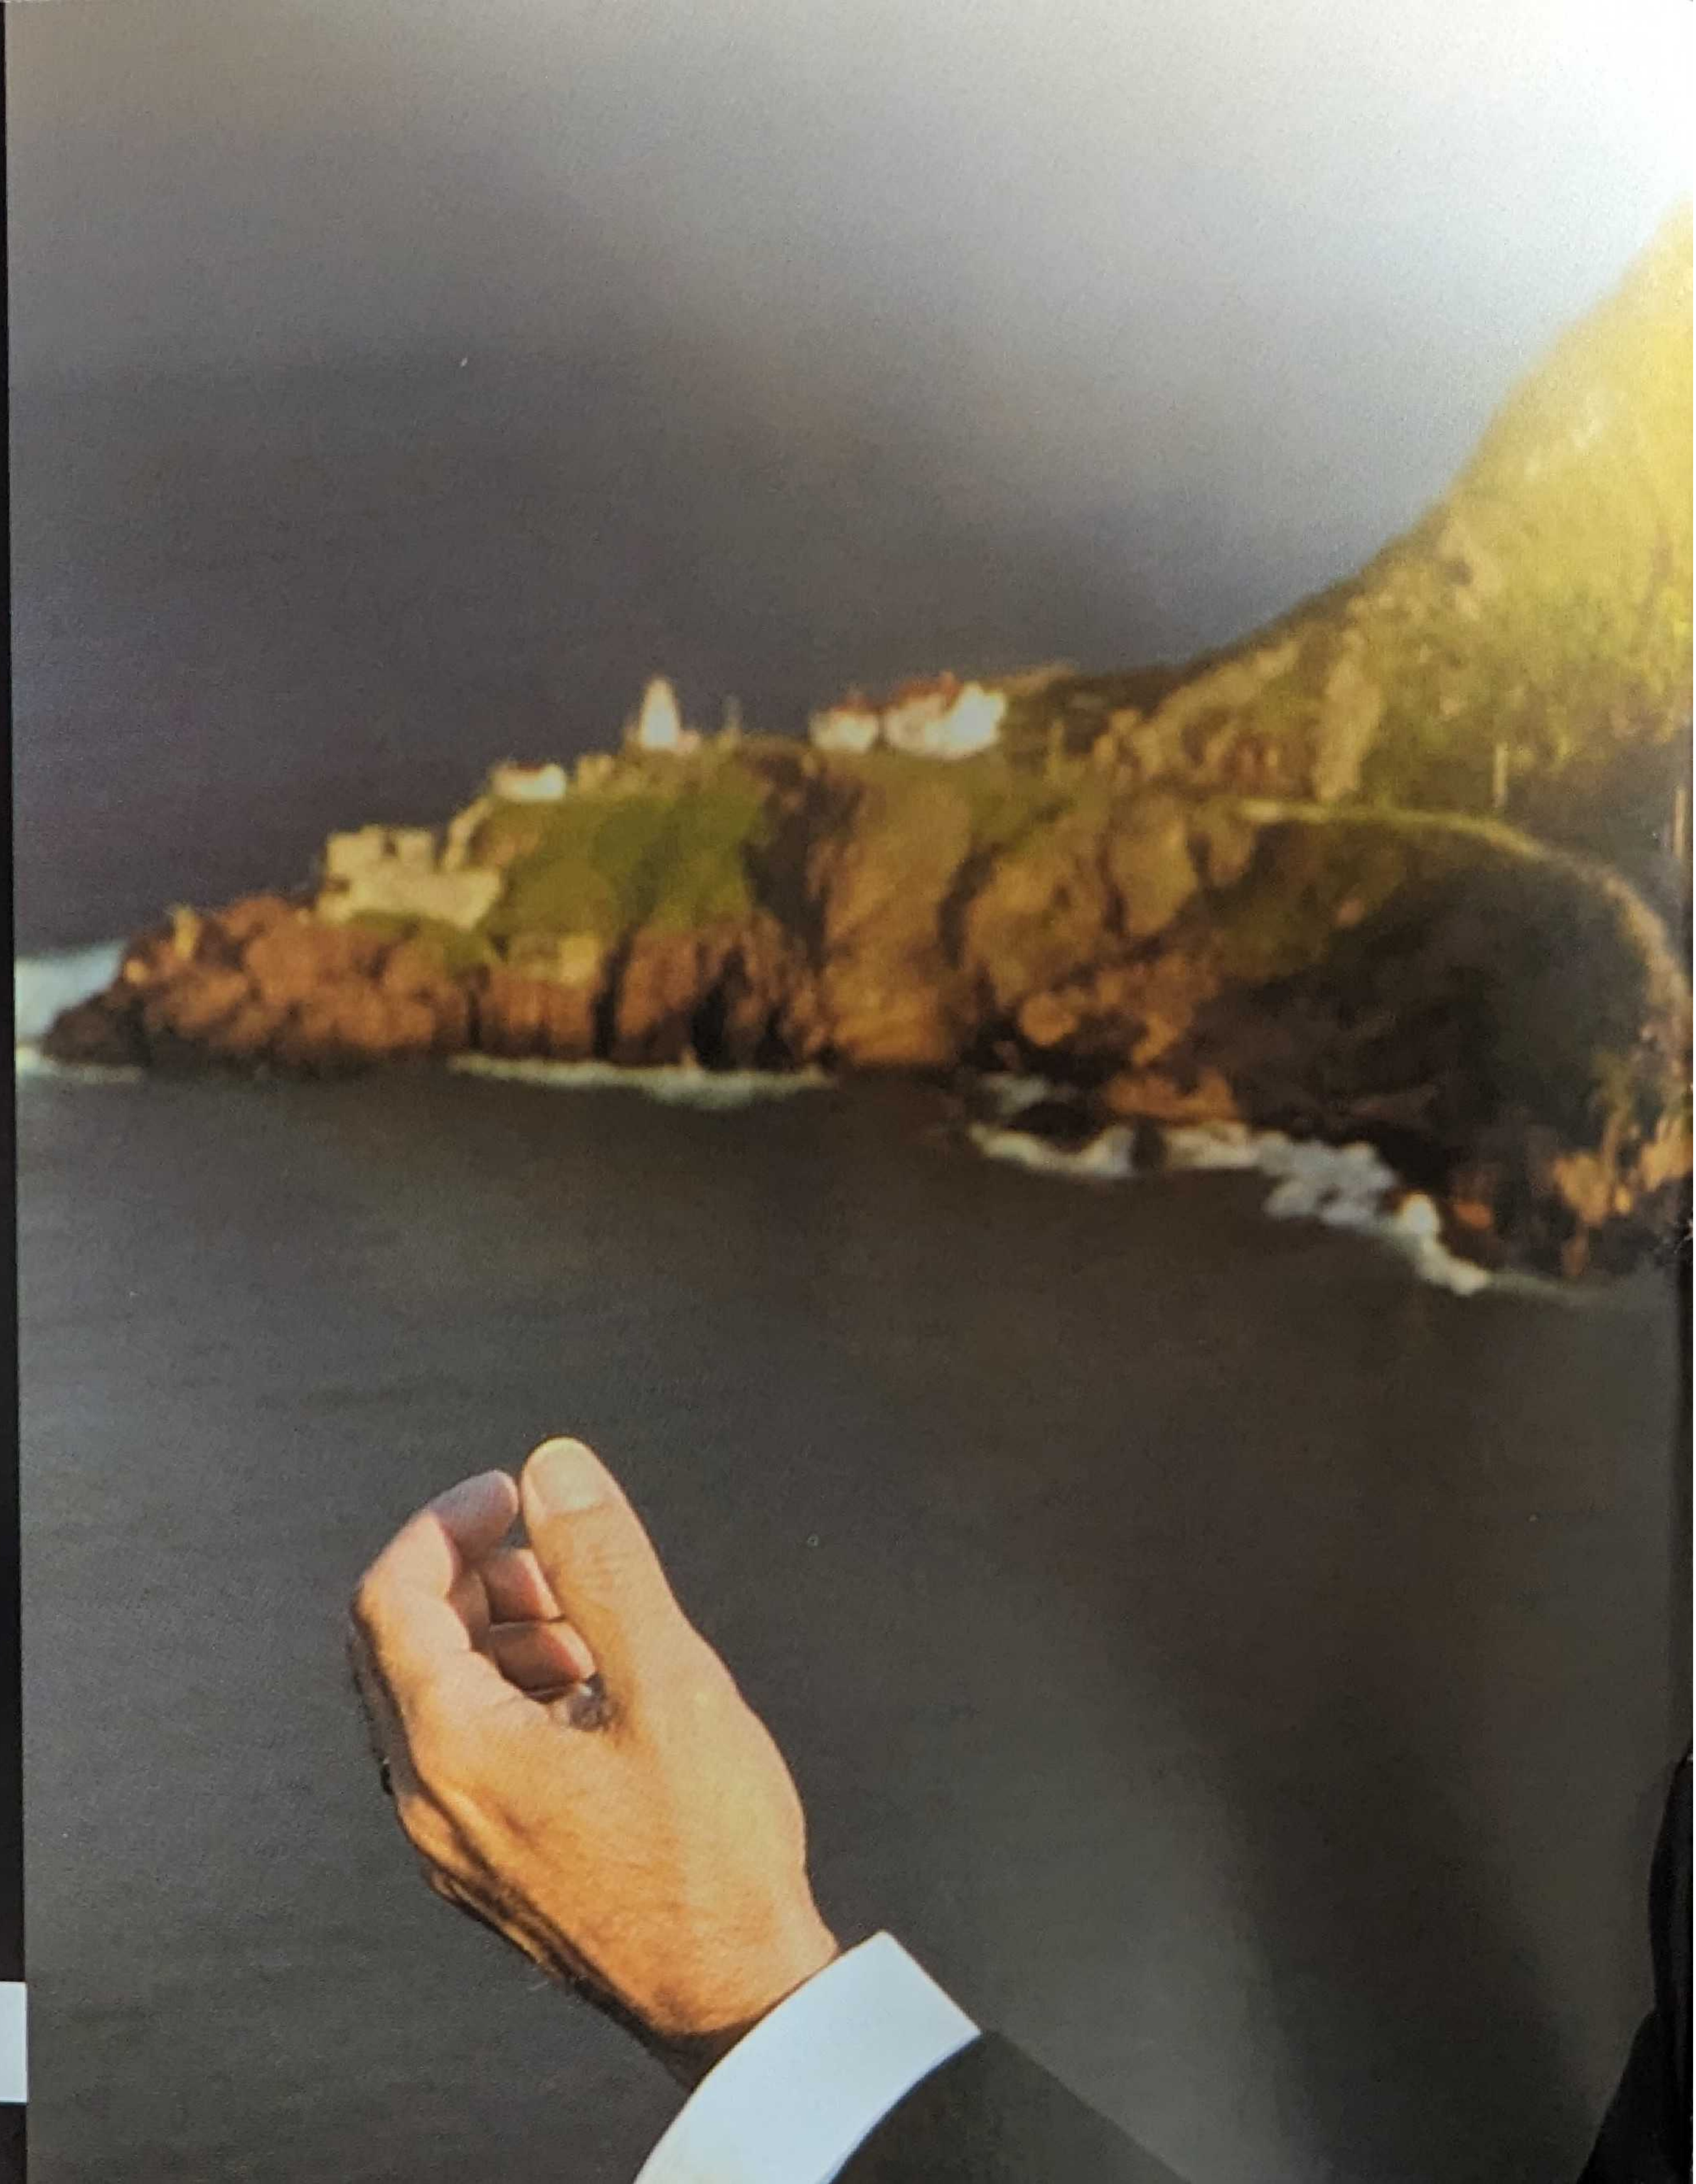

As Music Director of the Newfoundland Symphony Orchestra, it is with great pride that I present to you our 2013/14 season. I truly believe that from Mozart to Agócs, from full symphonies to The Ladies of Vegas, this program includes something for us all! I sincerely look forward to sharing another season of wonderful music-making with this group of fine and dedicated musicians and to welcoming a variety of excellent guest artists who will join us throughout the year.

To you, our loyal audience, I am delighted to say how wonderful it is to see you again. Please share the news of our new season with your family, friends, and neighbours. We would love to see them all. Come see us... wherever we play.
